Trans* Voices

Trans* individuals may not be a huge part of the population, but they are ever present in our communities, workplaces, and within our congregation. Unfortunately, trans* voices in our society are silenced or are spoken over quite frequently. Join us on this Sunday as we explore trans* voices, what they have to say, and their importance in our congregation, denomination, and community as a whole.

Growing Love, Giving Hope

From the roots of our founding, to the branches of our congregation, to the blossoms of our ministries, UU Princeton nurtures love within our congregation and offers hope beyond ourselves. On this Sunday, the kick off of our 2020-2021 Annual Giving Campaign, let us celebrate the many ways in which we grow love and give hope to the world.

New Moons and Full

The lunar phase cycle, with its different impressions of a constant body, can teach us about change and stability. Unseen on one day is a fullness that abides, and present one day is an awaiting absence. What might the varying, regular faces of the moon teach us?

The Final Stage of Grief – Mission

You may be familiar with the Kubler-Ross grief cycle that moves from shock to acceptance. What this cycle misses is the calling that ensues when acceptance is fully integrated. The final stage of grief is mission. Our service will touch on the grief we experience when a dear one dies as well as the feeling that overtakes us when we are shocked, depressed and in-denial, grieving the state of our nation.

Rev. Anya Sammler Michael is co-Minister of the Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Montclair, NJ. She visits us as part of an NJ “Pulpit Swap” Sunday in which several ministers are leading worship in one another’s congregations as a way to build connections between our groups. Our own Rev. Jennifer is preaching at the First UU Fellowship of Hunterdon County as part of this collaboration.

The Tao of Leadership

The Tao te Ching, an ancient, sacred Taoist scripture, presents a spiritual, patient, collaborative, and resilient image of leadership that is very different from what often witness today. How might its wisdom inform how we select our leaders today, and how we may serve as leaders ourselves?

In 1988, Rev. Jeremiah Wright, then of Trinity United Church of Christ in Chicago, preached a sermon that centered on a painting, titled “Hope,” by Georges Frederic Watts. The painting, created in 1886, is of a harpist, dressed in rags, appearing to be in pain, sitting on top of the world. Everything seems to be going wrong, and yet the harpist plays on. Wright preached:

“See, in spite of being on a world torn by war; in spite of being on a world destroyed by hate; in spite of being on a world devastated by distrust and decimated by disease; in spite of being on a world where famine and greed were uneasy bed partners; in spite of being on a world where apartheid and apathy fed the fires of racism … her harp all but destroyed except for that one string that was left – in spite of all these things, the woman had the audacity to hope. She had the audacity to hope and to make music and to praise God on the one string she had left.”

“The audacity to hope” would become “the audacity of hope,” and, more than a decade later, become a well-known phrase. Before he was President, Barack Obama was a member of Rev. Wright’s congregation. The sentiment of that sermon inspired and stuck with him. He returned to it over the years, eventually using it to guide and frame his evolving political career. Frequently crediting Rev. Wright, he became known as a candidate of hope who believed in that value’s power to bring people together and serve the common good. He named his second best-selling book, “The Audacity of Hope,” and a very popular image of him was an artistic rendition of his face with the word “HOPE” at the bottom. “The audacity of hope,” became a household phrase.

But a part of me still likes the way the preacher said it. The audacity “to” hope puts hope in our hands, our hearts, our words, our deeds. The audacity “of” hope makes hope seem like it’s something out there just blessing the world as it sees fit, or can find room, and maybe it is that. It probably is that. But I like thinking of hope as something we have to do, actively. It’s a practice; a discipline; a spiritual exercise. Hope is a thing we have to seed, grow, harvest, and then give away to a world starving for its goodness. And then we do it all again.

We’ll consider “hope” in several worship services this month, as well as in our chalice circles and religious education. I hope you’ll also come early on March 15 for a short HOPE Devotional service that we’ll create together in Fahs from 9:45 -10:15. Your voices of hope will be a part of our time together.

As the harpist did in a world falling apart, we have to hope and mean it, even when it’s difficult. Especially when it’s difficult, we must make the music that lift minds and hearts, even our own. May we do so this month, making beautiful songs and sacred music; making hope real and alive, together.

In faith,
Rev. Bill
March Spiritual Theme – Hope

By Rev. Bill

Our Monthly Spiritual Themes guide our Chalice Circles, which are small, intentional groups of members and friends that gather for spiritual enrichment through personal sharing. For more information on Chalice Circles, please email Linda Benson at chalicecircles@uuprinceton.org. Our Chalice Circle thoughts and questions around the theme of Hope this month are:

“The very least you can do in your life is figure out what you hope for. And the most you can do is live inside that hope.” — Barbara Kingsolver

What do you hope for?

“You can cut all the flowers but you cannot keep Spring from coming.” — Pablo Neruda

When has spring come in your life?

“In a time of destruction, create something.” — Maxine Hong Kingston

When have you witnessed creation during, or after, destruction?

“Part of being optimistic is keeping one's head pointed toward the sun, one's feet moving forward. There were many dark moments when my faith in humanity was sorely tested, but I would not and could not give myself up to despair. That way lays defeat and death.” — Nelson Mandela

Who in your life has kept their head pointed toward the sun?

“Where there is no hope, it is incumbent on us to invent it.” — Albert Camus

Who have you known to create hope?

Faith Development for Children and Youth

The votes are in for Egg Hunt 2020! On Sunday, February 9 our service theme was "Voting for and With Justice". As part of our Wonder & Wisdom we asked UU Princeton congregants of all ages to vote for what they would enjoy finding inside the eggs at our spring egg hunt (to take place on Easter Sunday, April 12). We had a total of 51 votes and the top 3 were Chocolate, Jelly Beans and Fruit Snacks. With chocolate being the clear winner! In terms of edibles: there will be some healthier options within the eggs. Please note that due to allergies we will not include any items with nuts or seeds. Thank you to the handful of folks who volunteered to help with the Egg Hunt and Activities. I'll be in touch with you directly closer to the date.

😊✔️ “Sign In” to Children’s Faith Development at UU Princeton

Our CFD program would not exist if not for the many volunteers who support it. We are tremendously grateful for the energy and enthusiasm of our teaching leaders – who in teams of 3 – provide caring leadership with our kids week in and week out. Our role as members of the congregation is to support our teachers as helpers in the classroom. If you haven’t yet signed up to be the second adult “helper” in our classrooms – you are running out of time! It’s easy to Sign-In!

- Go to our website uuprinceton.org and either 1) under the Children’s Faith Development tab click on “Sign Up to Help” or 2) click on the SignUp Genius tab and you’ll find Children’s Faith Dev Team 2019-20 as one of the available sign ups
- On the sign-up page you can then scroll down to your next available Sunday when we are holding classes and choose a classroom in which to assist
- Thank you for sharing the gift of YOU with our children and youth through your presence in our classrooms!

And a special note. I’ll be out of the office Monday, February 24-Monday, March 9 taking what will be an annual “Winter Break”. When I return I’ll be hosting group conversations so we can talk together on what types of activities might best support us in living our faith each and every day. We are in a time of development here at UU Princeton when it comes to Lifespan Faith Development. I want to learn with you and be flexible and willing to try new things. I invite you to reflect on this question: What do you need to feel deeply connected to our Unitarian Universalist heritage and identity so you can best live those values in your day to day life?

All we do as a congregation - worship, public witness, community service, classes and social gatherings - is faith development. I welcome your insights, advice and feedback as we move forward - together.

With abiding love, Rev. Jennifer
Newcomers’ Events

The Mission of the UU Princeton Membership Ministry is that all who enter feel welcome, known, and loved. Newcomers experience personal and congregational connections that lead them to become committed UUs and members of our congregation.

To this end, we offer newcomers the following program to get to know us better:

Our Faith and Congregation: A shared exploration of Unitarian Universalist and UU Princeton history, belief and structures, it is organized by Rev. Bill Neely with Membership Committee presence and support. The next Our Faith and Congregation will be held on Sunday, March 1st from noon to 2:00 in the John Murray Room. You can sign up at the Welcome Circle, by e-mailing welcome@uuprinceton.org or by calling Marty Akers at 609-915-7564.

Introductions: This is a casual conversation for newcomers about Unitarian Universalism and UU Princeton, led by a minister and/or Membership Ministry member. It is usually held on the first Sunday every other month at 11:45 a.m. No sign-up is needed. The next Introductions will be Sunday, April 5th, 11:45 – 12:15. Meet at the Welcome Table in Robinson Lounge where we will walk with you to where it will be held.

The Shared Journey: Led by Rev. Bill, this is a half hour conversation after a Sunday service about membership in UU Princeton – what it means, why it is important and how one joins the congregation. The next Shared Journey will be on Sunday, April 26th from 11:45 – 12:15 in Rev. Bill’s office. You can sign up at the Welcome Table, by e-mailing welcome@uuprinceton.org or by calling Marty Akers at 609-915-7564.

If you have any questions about this event, membership or our congregation, please email us at membership@uuprinceton.org. We look forward to getting to know you better.

Joys and Sorrows

Pastoral Associates is a group of trained and caring members of the congregation that offers support and assistance to congregants facing difficulties, crises, or life transitions. If you believe that someone within the congregation or you, yourself, might benefit from the PA program, please send an email to PA@UUPrinceton.org, or contact Judy Malsbury or Lauren Foss.

To help nurture a beloved community here in this congregation, please remember to share significant events in members’ lives with the Pastoral Associates, who are charged with extending the pastoral ministry. This column is a place to inform the larger community of major events in people’s lives. Sometimes people want to have their news shared; sometimes privacy and confidentiality prevail. Items for this column should be sent to pa@uuprinceton.org. All items will be reviewed by the Pastoral Associate leadership team before publishing (Judy Malsbury, Lauren Foss, Rev. Jennifer Kelleher, and Rev. Bill Neely).

All are invited to celebrate the life of Ron Campbell, a long-time UU Princeton Member who passed away on February 2, at his memorial service on Saturday, March 7 at 2:00 p.m. in Channing Hall.

Carol Allen is recovering at Acorn Glen and welcomes calls and visits.

Roger Hoff, a long-time Member of UU Princeton, died February 18 at Chandler Hall Hospice, he was 95. He didn’t make his long-stated goal of 100, or a recent goal to best the record 101 achieved by one of his sisters. Roger joined the Congregation in 1971 and moved to Newtown, PA in 2018. A highlight of those active years at UU Princeton was the many lunches he planned and cooked for Men’s Club.

Signing the Membership Book Ceremony

This ceremony of becoming a member is for those who have previously attended “The Shared Journey” and want to become members. Please sign-up at the Welcome Circle or contact Rev. Bill Neely at 609-924-1604 ext. 111 or bill@uuprinceton.org to arrange a time.

Sixth Annual Fund-Raising Music Festival Coming SOON

The Music Ministries of the UU Congregations of New Jersey are in the planning stages for this year’s Festival. This year’s mission has shifted since last year’s festival at UU Princeton. The Music Directors have decided that it would make more sense and have less wear and tear if the recipient organization were more local to the host congregation. In that case, the audience is built in, and the host congregation takes more of a role guaranteeing a stronger audience. Our relationship with UU Faith Action remains strong and we continue to seek ways to collaborate in the future.

This year’s concert takes place on Saturday, March 21 from 2:00pm until 4:00pm. Choirs will gather at the Unitarian Universalist Congregation at Montclair for “A Concert of Hope”. Our recipient not-for-profit organization is MESH Montclair, a wonderful organization that provides essential services to homeless and food-insecure citizens. UU Montclair has a stake in this concert, as their volunteers cook and serve free meals to about 50-70 guests each Wednesday night. Executive Director, Dr. Gwen Parker-Ames is grateful and excited about the forthcoming concert. As usual we will encourage our congregants to attend this marvelous afternoon of music-making, but with the knowledge that the audience is built in due to the local presence of the organization and its relationship to UU Montclair.

Music and the Anti-Racism Taskforce Join Forces

Our Music Ministry has been searching for ways to support this timely taskforce in its fine anti-racism work. As our starting effort, we will bring Mark A. Miller, noted New Jersey composer, to Princeton in October. Mark Miller believes passionately that music can change the world. He also believes in Cornel West’s quote that “Justice is what love looks like in public.” Mark will be with us on Sunday, October 18 as music leader and preacher.

Since 1999 Mark has travelled to every part of the country delighting congregations with the power and joy of music making. He is Associate Professor of Church Music and Composer in Residence at Drew University in Madison NJ, and is a Lecturer in the Practice of Sacred Music at Yale University. He is also the Minister of Music of Christ Church in Summit, New Jersey. Mark received his Bachelor of Arts in Music from Yale University and his Master of Music in Organ Performance from Juilliard.

Mark was the headliner at last year’s UU musicians conference, where all assembled sang three of his most inspired compositions. We were completely blown away by his music and his story. His compositions can be found in services of any denomination where freedom and justice are prized values. His works are published through Hinshaw Press, Hope Publishing, Pilgrim Press, and his website, markamillermusic.com.

Music Ministry Mission Statement

To provide, through the power of music, a dynamic ministry that will inspire transcendent personal experiences, draw the congregation into greater kinship, and bring inspiration to the wider community.

Music Ministry Ensembles

Adult Choir. The ensemble has 25-30 members, and now includes several people from the community who have come to sing! We’re looking for singers in all sections, but altos and basses especially are needed. If you hesitate because you think your voice isn’t good enough, or in shape, come and be surprised at how quickly your voice will expand when surrounded with voices just like yours. Even a minimal amount of choral or music-reading experience, recent or long ago, is all you’ll need to add your voice to this wonderful and welcoming ensemble. Rehearsals are every Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 9pm; the Choir sings for services about two Sundays per month. To sing in the Adult Choir, contact Marjorie at marjmuse@verizon.net, or just come and check us out any Wednesday evening at 7:30pm.

Bell Choir. Our Director, Joelle Piercy has been leading our enthusiastic ensemble of bell ringers for many years. AND, for the 2019-2020 season she will be taking a much deserved sabbatical as her new baby is due in the fall. Our interim director is Princeton University student Thaddeus Whelan, who now serves as a lead percussionist with the Princeton University Band. Rehearsals for the Bell Choir have changed to Sunday afternoons at 12:30 in Room 1. Please note that we not only have 3 octaves of bells, but we also have three octaves of chimes, with a softer, sweeter sound. If interested, contact Marjorie at marjmuse@verizon.net.

Kids’ Chorale. Director Evan Corn is off to college in the fall, and we are in hot pursuit of a replacement. The Kids will continue to rehearse most Sunday mornings at 9:30am. It’s a great time to consider this kid-friendly bunch, so contact marjmuse@verizon.net for a complete rehearsal and performance schedule.

Oompah Band. This jolly ensemble is for woodwind and brass players. This ensemble is always looking for more instrumentalists. The Oompah Band is the group that adds so much color and charm to church events such as the Hanging of the Greens. With the addition of a few more musicians last year, the Band sounded fuller than ever. If interested, contact Herb Foster at Herb_foster@yahoo.com.

House Band. Our new House Band, under the superb direction of John Burton, has gone great guns in its first year under the able leadership of John Burton. We’re still looking for interested a guitarist, bass player, and percussionist to join accomplished Gig-meister John to will add energy (not necessarily volume) to our services. You can reach John at johnmburton@gmail.com.

UPCOMING EVENTS

Save the Dates: Plan to Join us at Loaves & Fishes March 27 & 28, 2020

Help the Miracle Happen! Join us on Friday March 27 &/or Saturday March 28, 2020 for Loaves and Fishes this year. This is when our congregation joins with UU Washington Crossing to serve our annual weekend hot meal in Trenton to those who live with hunger every day. Most of the regular meal providers in Trenton are closed on weekends, so for the past ~40 years, Loaves & Fishes has provided hospitality on the last two Saturdays of each month. Various congregations and organizations take turns providing the food and labor. Our Mercer County UU congregations have worked together on this for over 30 years -- meet some fellow UUs! Join us! Ages 10 - 110 are welcome.

Friday March 27 6:30-8PM – help make bag lunches at UU Washington Crossing

The lunches are handed out as a parting gift to the L&F guests so that they have additional food for the rest of the weekend.

Saturday March 28: at St Mary of the Assumption Cathedral in Trenton

9:30 for a few early helpers to heat the meal, and 10:45 for most helpers to serve. We’re always finished up by 1:00 PM.

After many years -- over 20! -- we've changed the menu in order to provide healthier, more nutrient-dense, lower salt and lower fat food that is more culturally appropriate (pork-free) to our Loaves and Fishes guests in Trenton. This year we will serve roast turkey and gravy, sweet potatoes/yams, 'home made' cole slaw, celery and carrots and dip, bread and homemade brownies. Instead of paying a premium for the main course form Pennington Quality Market, a small team is preparing the turkey purchased from Restaurant Depot! An additional vegan alternative (BBQ lentil loaf) will also be provided for any vegetarians. If you would like to join this effort, contact Louise Senior at DRLSenior@gmail.com or via text at 609 240 6543.

Signup Genius links are available on the UU Princeton website so you can let us know if & how you can help! You can also contact Louise Senior at the email above.

Racial Justice Task Force

Are You a Racist?
The Racial Justice Task Force has been working on many projects since August but the most important one for us as individuals is answering that question. We can't take actions to be anti-racist if we don't even know what it means to be racist. Marlon James shares a quick explanation about how the non-racist position does not exist. Check it out: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=jm5DWa2bpbs (or just Google Marlon James YouTube Are you a racist?)

Starting in March, we plan to better use UU Princeton's website to post presentations (within and outside of UU Princeton) and opportunities for getting involved in anti-racism work. Go take a look, say, after March 15: www.uuprinceton.org

We have 12 projects going on. Our approach is NOT to have the RJTF do all of these. Rather, each project has 2-3 team leaders and we look for helpers - especially aligning without outside coalitions/groups as much as we can.

Some on-going, more internal projects are:
1. Faith Development at UU Princeton about racism (Ted Fetter, Jane DeMaio, Joe Anzek)
2. BLUU: Support Black Lives of Unitarian Universalism (Susan MacDonnell)
3. Working with the Board and congregation on Strategic Plan revisions and the proposed UUA 8th Principle (Sharon Copeland and Kevin Trayner)
4. Expanding music ministry to include diverse, racially inclusive options (Jeanne DeVoe and Janet Heroux)
5. Reviewing how we give grants from UU Princeton (Susan MacDonnell and Jeanne DeVoe)

On-going projects that involve deepening our work with "outside" partners:
1. Exploring creation of a statewide Indigenous Peoples' Day with Lenape Nation (Sharon Copeland; looking for second UU team leader)
2. Created the NJ Social Justice Remembrance Coalition to install historical marker of lynching in Eatontown, NJ (Tim and Rainy Hartley)
3. Creating Conversation and Community Through Art - four art installations and receptions at UU Princeton quarterly (Ruthann Traylor, Kevin Trayner, Jeanne DeVoe)
4. Developing local church partnerships with congregations of color (Blair Williams and Mary Kyle)
5. Involvement with Not In Our Town Princeton (Jeanne DeVoe and Frances Prestiani)
6. Mentoring and tutoring youth and adults of color (Susan MacDonnell and Frances Prestiani) Currently have from UU Princeton 8 tutors and 7 mentors.
7. Working with La Convivencia in West Windsor on projects such as the MLK Day event (Sharon Copeland and outside team leaders)

UU PRINCETON HISTORY by Carl Haag

“A bittersweet farewell for NASA” was the headline in the Trenton Times on Jan. 31 this year. A smaller headline below explained what was happening, “Spitzer Space Telescope — our infrared eyes to the cosmos — is shutting down.” Several gorgeous color photos showed shots from the Hubble telescope. What? Hubble. Spitzer. In these parts it was known that Lyman Spitzer was the father of this telescope. Dr. Spitzer was one of four world renowned physicists who were members of UCP in its earliest days. More about them in next month’s Skylights. However, you can see the Times article on the Founders room bulletin board.

In the mid-1990s, I wrote articles for Skylights about notable UUs. These two articles appeared in the 11/25/96 and the 12/11/96 editions, with the first paragraphed below censored and deleted. Carl Haag

UU REFLECTIONS - It is one of the biggest films of all time. A movie critic might say, "It is an out-of-this-world experience!" There is drama, there is beauty, and there is a brief moment of romance, a kiss between two members of the Unitarian Church of Princeton.

"Destiny in Space" is the film shown in the six-storied IMAX theaters in this country. In the movie there are unbelievable scenes in outer space, including the mission that revolutionizes astronomy. The Hubble space telescope was launched by rocket to more clearly observe heavens above the thick blanket of our atmosphere that makes the stars twinkle but obscures the universe. The acknowledged creator of this brilliant concept is Lyman Spitzer, Jr. (June 26, 1914) who was photographed at the launch, along with his wife, Doreen, who bestowed the kiss after liftoff.

The idea for a space telescope was developed by Lyman Spitzer towards the end of WWII. A friend from the secret Air Force RAND project on a possible artificial satellite some day orbiting the earth asked him to write a chapter on how such a satellite might be useful in astronomy. As a science fiction devote, Dr. Spitzer realized that the day would come, using rockets like the German V-2's, when this was feasible so he developed ideas about how telescopes of varying sizes might be used in space.

In 1957, before rockets could be employed, Professor Spitzer and colleagues at Princeton began to send 12 inch balloons up to 80,000 feet to obtain greatly improved photographs of the planets and galaxies. Then the newly formed NASA took on a project that Spitzer was involved with to launch a rocket with a intermediate-sized telescope aboard. The dream that began in the mid-1940's came to fruition on a day in August 1972 when at a remote command from the Goddard Space Center, his ultraviolet spectrometer on board the Copernicus satellite was turned on.

Despite the success of the space telescope work, it was a quantum leap to get the support of fellow astronomers first and then Congress to gain approval and funding for a large space telescope. Lyman and his colleagues set up a letter-writing campaign; one congressman said he had never seen such an outpouring of support from scientists for a particular subject. It took years for the work to progress and there were set-backs like the Challenger disaster. However, in 1990, almost two decades after Copernicus, the Hubble space telescope was launched, its malfunctioning corrected, and the magnificent universe was seen as never before. The Big Bang theory now has to be re-thought because stars older than the universe were discovered, a black hole as huge as 3 billion suns was found, and towering clouds 6 trillion miles high have been pictured.

Professor Spitzer is also the father of another seminal idea, one that has the potential for solving a great human problem. The next REFLECTIONS will tell you about this.
~ Camping in the Grove 2020 ~ REGISTRATION NOW

Murray Grove is thrilled to invite children from near and far to come join them for their summer camp this August. This camp has run for eight magical years and keeps running by popular demand! Just be careful joining them the first time, because once you experience this fun and excitement, you’ll want to come back year after year (which all the kids do!)

The 2020 installment of Camping in the Grove will include its signature five days of fabulous ol’ fashioned camp fun with a healthy dose of UU religious education and history. The camp is offered for children and youth entering 4th through 7th grade in the upcoming fall. Youth entering ninth grade in the fall that have previously attended Camping in the Grove can apply to become a Counselor in Training at camp this summer. (*Please note that this age has been moved up a year.) Youth entering 10th – 12th grade in the fall can apply to be junior counselors, and young adults age 18 and older can apply to be senior counselors.

The theme for Camping in the Grove 2020 is “Hand in Hand”. This year marks the 250th anniversary of John Murray bringing the Universalist religion to America from Europe, which began at the site that is now Murray Grove. The ship he arrived on was the “Hand in Hand.” Together, hand in hand, John Murray and Thomas Potter, who convinced Murray to preach, brought Universalism to a nation in need of universal love. Camping in the Grove 2020 is going to embody that “Hand in Hand” spirit of working together, playing together, and growing together as we delve deeply into teamwork through fun camp activities and annual service project.

This year's camp will take place August 2nd – 6th. Camp registration has begun. The camp has limited space and fills up quickly. We highly urge you to take the opportunity to register your child now.

For more information about the camp and early bird registration forms, please go to murraygrove.org or CLICK HERE! Or contact Carol Haag: revcarol4@gmail.com.

Adventures Ahead!!

Announcing a new Murray Grove Adventure Program for rising 8th-10th graders July 13-16. This program will offer exciting service opportunities and outdoor adventures to youth who have aged out of Camping in the Grove and to all youth of adventurous spirit. We will be learning firsthand how we put our values to work in the world!

There will be food and fun at Murray Grove, campfires, games and of course, GaGa!

Stay tuned as plans unfold. Contact Carol Haag for more information,

Climate Activism – Our Local Voice!

Climate scientists have long understood the human-driven CO₂ generation has been influencing our climate, locally and globally. Members of UU Princeton have been concerned about this for many years. Back in 2012 we passed a “Green Sanctuary” resolution in favor of legislation that was pending that would have pushed our economy toward renewables more rapidly. Sadly, that legislation didn’t pass and we’re still looking for ways to definitively push our carbon-footprint lower as a society. Luckily, there is new legislation that also aims at reducing carbon footprint by enacting a “price on carbon”, a market-based strategy that is known to be very influential in encouraging energy-use adaptation and protection of our environment. The new bill in the US House of Representatives is called the “Energy Innovation and Carbon Dividend Act” (H.R. 763), which puts a fee on carbon encouraging renewable energy but is net revenue neutral by returning the carbon fees back to Americans as a per-capita dividend.

Building on our 2012 UU Princeton Resolution in Support of the Save our Climate Act, we have brought the following resolution to the Board of Trustees to further endorse our commitment to climate activism and to articulate our sympathy for these efforts. The following Resolution (see page 14) was adopted by the Board of Trustees at its meeting on February 11, 2020: (Resolution, see page 14)

If you are interested in learning more about this legislation and ways to support it, please come to the monthly Citizens Climate Lobby (CCL) meetings. UU Princeton hosts CCL in Fabs Theater every second Saturday starting at 12:30, with a national webcast guest speaker at 1:00. CCL is a non-partisan effort aiming to bridge the divide in congress and win support from both sides of the aisle to ultimately pass this important legislation. ~Dunbar Birnie
Resolution in Support of the Energy Innovation and Carbon Dividend Act, H.R. 763:

- Whereas Unitarian Universalism’s 7th Principal articulates our “Respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part”; and
- Whereas fossil fuel use by human societies is escalating and disrupting the global climate; and
- Whereas fossil fuel use also inflicts costs on society that are considerably higher than their market prices; and
- Whereas these costs are inflicted disproportionately on the poor, on vulnerable ecosystems, and on future generations; and
- Whereas the Energy Innovation and Carbon Dividend Act, H.R. 763, now before the U.S. House of Representatives presents a direct, transparent, efficient and fair method of slowing, halting, and reversing these trends; and
- Whereas the provisions of this Act will exert many beneficial effects upon the economic well-being of all U.S. citizens; and
- Whereas the Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Princeton has a long history of activism aimed at protecting the environment in many ways, including passage in 2012 of a similar climate resolution; and
- We now therefore resolve, as the Board of Trustees of UUCP in support of the earlier Congregation resolution in 2012, to actively support the Energy Innovation and Carbon Dividend Act, H.R. 763 and any subsequent bill that embodies the same principles and to urge all of New Jersey’s Members of Congress to do the same.
